demostertpot_booknook Thanksgiving in Canada is today. Happy Thanksgiving to our Canadian family, friends and fellow Stewards. This darling book was donated to us by Ellen @facepaintnonprofit . I enjoyed this quick read in time to place it front and center in our Library. Hop on over to read it next and then return it for others to read.

New book added just in time for Halloween!
👍👍👍👍👍👍👍👍👍👍

The book is titled "Full Moon", and was donated by family-owned Facepaint Nonprofit! More about Facepaint is listed below.

We have launched a new website, which gives some information about our nonprofit and its goal to raise social and cultural awareness, and support literacy and education. Editorial reviews for books are also provided. In addition, our site has free PDF downloads of bilingual mini-tutorials based on our published geography books (Spanish/English and Hindi/English). A QR code is included at the end of each of our donated books now that takes the reader to the nonprofit website:
<https://facepaint.team/>

We also have a YouTube channel with video versions of our books, including audiobooks, and other videos meant to educate, enlighten, or entertain (or if we're lucky all three)! Please feel free to visit our channel and share with anyone you think might be interested (we always appreciate subscribers)! Our anti-bullying children's fantasy, Fruit of the Vine (originally published in the literary journal PKA's Advocate) has been turned into a 3D animation, called "Justin and the Werloobee." This film, which won awards from 165 film festivals, is available for free on our website and YouTube channel. A QR code is included at the end of our donated books now that takes the reader to Justin and the Werloobee.

November 2022 film festival update for the new 3D animation, Full Moon! Full Moon has so far been selected by 29 festivals! It has been awarded by 16 festivals (many of which are based in India/South Asia, and several of which are based in Europe and in the United States)! In Full Moon, love and imagination come together to make for a most memorable Halloween night. Like Justin and the Werloobee, Full Moon strives to promote kindness and empathy, love and friendship. From Both Sides: A Memoir was among 50 titles listed out of 328 to be given a 2019 Mariner Award from Bewildering Stories, a weekly internet webzine that first published the piece.

DON WEBB, Managing Editor of Bewildering Stories, had the following to say: "Testing prospective medications is impersonal work: one doesn't see the patients who need treatment... But what if the clinician or physician, herself, is stricken with the disease she treats and becomes the knowledge that one is to be hanged in the morning. Fortunately, Ellen's story has a happy ending. Her memoir displays compassion for those whose stories do not end well. She has been one of them and knows how they, too, have felt when faced with a dread diagnosis. She has seen cancer from both sides and gives science and medicine a human face."
