1h · 🌐

We're sending a huge, heartfelt THANK YOU to the incredible authors Ellen Weisberg & Ken Yoffe and the amazing FACEPAINT nonprofit for their generous donation of books to the Reading Rainbow Library (Charter #201186 in Miramar, FL)!

Their donation includes fantastic titles like Full Moon 🌕, Making Emmie Smile 😊, Angel Rock Leap 📖, All Across Canada 🍁, Europe 🌍, China 🇨🇳, and more! These books are already bringing big smiles and inspiring little minds in our community 📚✨

Your gift is more than just books—it's imagination, joy, and adventure wrapped in every page 📖💫

Thank you for believing in literacy, community, and the magic of sharing stories! 🌈💛
Because of YOU, our young readers are traveling the world one book at a time 🌍📖

Take a look, it's in a book...

floral414_littlefreelibrary Thank you @facepaintnonprofit for the free book! It's the perfect addition to our #readincolorlittlefreelibrary!

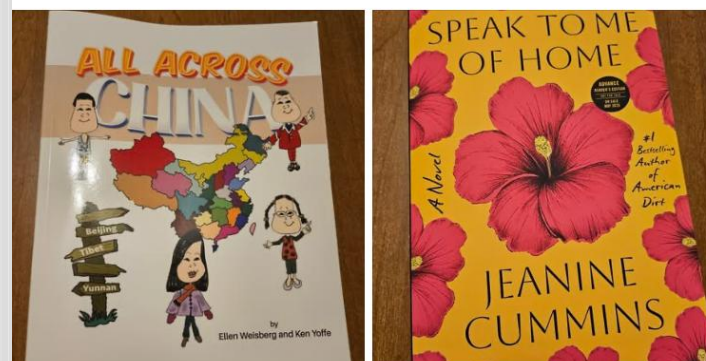

"Our nonprofit, FACEPAINT, raises social and cultural awareness through provision of our published books and articles, audiobooks, videos and film. Our website provides editorial reviews of all of our books, as well as free PDFs of our children's/YA books, and PDFs of bilingual mini-tutorials based on our geography books (Spanish/English and Hindi/English).

We also have a YouTube channel with videos meant to educate, enlighten, or entertain (or if we're lucky all three!) Please feel free to visit our channel and share with anyone you think might be interested (we always appreciate subscribers!). QR codes are included at the end of our donated books that take the reader to one or both of our multi-award-winning 3D animations, "Justin and the Werloobee" and "Full Moon"

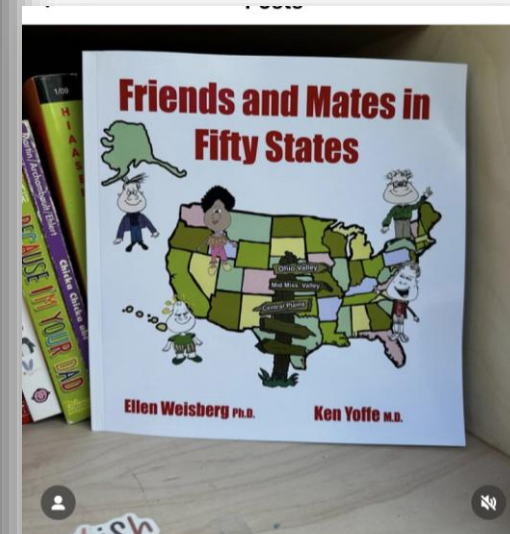

I'm so excited!
I got two more giveaways through Little Free Library yesterday!
One is another from our friends at Facepaint Nonprofit. This one is a geography book about China; how cool is that?!
The second one is from Henry Holt which is part of Macmillan Publishers. We've received several books through them!
So thankful for groups like Facepaint and Macmillan that are so supportive of Little Free Libraries!!

Fruit of the Vine

A special thank you to @facepaintnonprofit for the donated copy of this book.

In FRUIT OF THE VINE, we meet Justin, a sensitive, introspective boy whose physical features and personality make him a convenient target for many of his cruel peers. One night, he wakes to find himself on a mysterious island, which is inhabited by a horde of bizarre creatures. Despite his desperation to find out where he is and, more importantly, how to get home, he becomes involved in the plight of Irvino, a beast who is ostracized on this island much in the way that Justin is in his own world. The story ends with a twist as Justin, in helping Irvino, ends up helping himself by making a lifelong friend out of Irvino. FRUIT OF THE VINE is unique from other stories in the fantasy genre in that it is meant not only for the grade school-aged fantasy enthusiast, but also for anyone interested in the topic of bullies, and how altruistic qualities can develop in children.

That includes the wonderful tagged publishers and non-profits who have sent me books. And it also includes amazing bookstagrammers who have sent me books to add to the Transported Little Free Library and a wonderful community who refills it before I can when they see it run low.

Today I am featuring some of the books that I have received recently to add to my LFL. Celadon sent me two ARC copies of Family of Spies. I'll be posting my full review shortly. It's a phenomenal nonfiction about a family in the lead up to Pearl Harbor that had me intrigued throughout.

Twenty-Four Seconds from now is now out in paperback. I loved this book so much when it came out as an audiobook that I immediately bought the hardcover. And then I could not bring myself to share it in my LFL, so I am thrilled to now be able to.

Treasure of Ocean Parkway is a spectacular middle grade book and second in a wonderful series. Abolition and the African American Story is a brand new addition to the Race to the Truth series, and I strongly recommend it.

Full Moon is an adorable Halloween story. I also really enjoyed learning in All Across Canada.

And of course, I have been meaning to read The Book Swap for a long time. I'm so excited to have the paperback for my LFL. But I'll be reading this one myself before putting it out permanently.

QOTD: What are you giving thanks for today?

rebelwoodslibrary The seasons are changing and we are battling down for our first winter open. Our flag may be down but we are still currently open with food and books. We also just refreshed the Library with some new books. Thank you to @berniesanders and @crownpublishing for the copy of Fight Oligarchy for the Library. Thank you to @facepaintnonprofit for the copy of Fruit of the Vine for our Junior Park Ranger section. It may be cold, and a bit snowy ❄️, out but we hope you stop by and see us soon. sunnysidereads! We have three more kids books to add to the library thanks to the generosity of @facepaintnonprofit! These books address bullying and social awareness.

lakeview.little.library Proof that curiosity is a superpower. 🌍 ✨

Friends and Mates in Fifty States is a bright, engaging children's book that invites young readers to explore how much they already share with kids across the country. Through playful illustrations and simple storytelling, it sparks questions, laughter, and conversations that naturally stretch beyond the page.

This wonderful book was generously donated by @facepaintnonprofit, an organization creating books and short films that help young people feel more connected and celebrated. Their work is designed to jump-start conversations at home and in classrooms, building understanding in ways that feel accessible, fun, and timely.

A heartfelt thank you to FACEPAINT for sharing this thoughtful book with our community. It's waiting in the library for a curious kid and a grown-up ready to talk, wonder, and learn together. ❤️
